GREAT MINOR EUROPEAN ISLANDS

THE ISLE OF ELBA – TUSCAN ARCHIPELAGO

7TH/12TH SEPTEMBER 2009

A two-faced survey of the "Maritime Continent of Europe" in order to discuss shared development and territorial diversity. Insulae. Great Minor European islands (The Isle of Elba – Tuscan Archipelago) 7th/12th September 2009, an event organized by the Tuscan Region and by the Tuscan 'Anci' [Association of Italian Municipalities] together with Ancim [Association of Italian Minor Islands], which has chosen a double perspective for its second edition of the "European Conference on Minor Islands", taking place in Portoferraio.

A sort of telescope to look "far out" to the European Union's maritime policies soon after the start of Europe's new legislature, and a hand lens to examine the relationship between the process of community integration and regional policies so as to investigate both the vulnerability and potential of the Tuscan, Mediterranean and European coastal and minor islands' areas.
